

This letter is to inform you your frozen genetic material is being moved from CT Fertility in Trumbull, Connecticut, the original practice where you were treated. As you are continuing your care with SHER Institute for Reproductive Medicine your frozen genetic material is being moved to our practice located at:

IntegraMed Fertility SHER - New York City
425 Fifth Avenue, 3rd FL
New York New York 10016

The Fifth Avenue location is the repository site for our patients frozen embryos, eggs or sperm.

The frozen embryos, eggs, sperm or tissue specimens will be transfer by using a cryopreservation shipping tank and packing materials provided by IntegraMed Fertility & SHER - New York, at no expense to you, and in accordance with the policies and procedures established by IntegraMed Fertility & SHER - New York for the transfer of frozen embryos, eggs, sperm or tissue specimens to another storage facility.

By signing below you agree to the transfer and acknowledge that the transportation of frozen embryos, eggs, sperm, or tissue specimens involves certain risks, including delays in transit, damage to or loss of the shipping tank, which may irreversibly impair, damage or destroy the frozen embryos, eggs, sperm, or tissue specimens making them unsuitable for use in assisted reproduction.

Please sign and return this document to the attention of:
